CUSTOMER PROFILE

Commercial Grading provides grading services throughout the Southeastern United States. From Virginia to Miami, they will provide service on short notice and no job is too large or small. Because of Commercial Grading's ability and mobility, they have developed a reputation of being a leader in the grading industry. Ed Manfra has owned and operated this business since 1966. However, he has been a Lubrication Engineers customer since 1954.

AREA OF CONCERN

Ed Manfra is dedicated to his customers and he has the capability to respond quickly. Equipment failure for him is not an option. When a job comes in, Commercial Grading has to move fast. There is no time for equipment failures.

LE SOLUTION

Because there is no time for mechanical failures, Commercial Grading uses LE products in every piece of rolling stock. They use equipment that is over 30 years old and that equipment is as good as the day it was bought.

CUSTOMER COST SAVINGS

Ed Manfra believes in taking care of his equipment. When asked why he operates equipment that is over thirty years old he responded, “Why would I buy something new? My equipment is as good as day one. Lubrication Engineers’ products have been used exclusively since I bought my equipment. No other lubrication will ever be used. They have never let me down. There is no other company that makes a product as good as Lubrication Engineers, Inc. If there is anyone out there who needs some help in deciding what lubrication to use, tell them to call me.”
